This Office Action is in response to Paper #10, filed May 9, 2002. Claims 6 and 7 have been canceled. Claims 1-5 and 8 are currently pending and are under examination.

Maintenance/Modifications of Rejections:

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-5 and 8 are again rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites that the absence of apoE4 gene alleles indicates that the human subject will have a predisposition for "beneficial effects". What might these effects be, that is, is the response improved cognition or does it involve phospholipid transport?

Claims 4 (b) and 5(b), it is not clear what "group" the patient would be placed in, that is, if the absence of apoE4 alleles indicates a predisposition to beneficial effects of cholinergic drugs, then which group would be indicated, that is, why would a non-treatment group be indicated?.

Because these issues under 112, second paragraph are related to the issues previously set forth, they are mostly the same as before, but directed to language having very similar meaning to that previously rejected. Applicants have not argued how the new terminology differs from the previously submitted terminology.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-5 and 8 are again rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 of U.S. Patent No. 5,935,781.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the method of patent claim 1 is the same as the method of application Claim 1 except that subject of patent Claim 1 has cognitive impairments and the method of application Claim 1 has Alzheimer's, which is encompassed in the phrase "cognitive impairments". The method of application Claims 4 and 5 are encompassed in patent Claims 1-4.

Applicants state that a terminal disclaimer will be filed once allowable subject matter is indicated.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
